

LUXURY

ASSISTED LIVING

If you are interested in resort-style assisted living, here at Loving Assisted Living, we are able to get you the luxury assisted living, with all of the first-class amenities that you are looking for.

With our large network of assisted living facilities, we will help you to find the 5 star hotel-style assisted living that you want. Giving you the high-end assisted living options that you are interested in.

Beautiful Luxury assisted Living Locations

Resort-style assisted living will offer you beautiful locations, that are well designed and purpose-built communities, that are well designed inside and out.

Upscale senior communities will have beautiful grounds, that are well manicured, with beautiful gardens, ponds, walking paths, tranquil sitting areas, putting greens, and water features.

Luxury assisted living locations will all have attractive courtyards, outdoor dining, and areas to congregate outdoors, so get fresh air, and socialize.

Mind Stimulation At High-End Assisted Living

There are different types of brain training software that are professionally designed for the optimum results such as improvememory.org or Cross Train Your Brain, these types of mental activities, help to promote cognitive skills and keep the brain active.

During the aging process, it is important to keep the brain stimulated and working, even if dementia has started, this type of memory care will help to maintain the brain's function, these types of software will help to maintain cognitive skills.

First Class Therapy in Hotel Style Assisted Living

With luxury assisted living you will get the very best personal care, and you will get the top-of-the-line therapy that you would expect.

Luxury assisted living communities to provide the very best pet therapy, physical therapy, occupational therapy, and snoezelen therapy, all the best-certified professionals, so you can expect the best service.

Environmentally Friendly Assisted Living

Most high-end assisted living communities, they are being built and run with environmentally-conscious purchasing decisions. From construction and materials to the purchasing for all of the supplies, being an environmentally friendly community is how they are designed and run.

Assisted Living Apartments With Full Kitchens

High-end assisted living communities will provide full kitchens in most of their apartments. Some of the finished in the luxury assisted living apartments, you will find granite countertops or marble countertops, with high-end appliances.

Gourmet Dining With Luxury Senior Living

Luxury high-end senior retirement communities pride themselves on the high-end top quality certified chefs that they have. They also have registered dietitians to help to design the gourmet menus.

Some super high-end assisted living communities will even have two restaurants within the community, to provide more variety and different options for every meal.

Large Apartments With First Class Assisted Living

Apartments in luxury assisted living communities are about 20% larger than the standard assisted living communities, all of the apartments will all have higher ceilings, for a more spacious living experience.

